

Ready for what's next.

Benesch is pleased to announce that Mark J. Silberman has joined the firm's Chicago office. His addition complements the 47 other attorneys who have joined the firm since January 2016 and represents a continuing influx of great talent in accordance with the firm's strategic plan.

Mark J. Silberman

Partner
Chicago

Mark is a partner in Benesch's Health Care & Life Sciences Practice Group. He is an experienced trial lawyer, healthcare attorney, and litigator. Mark's practice focuses on helping healthcare professionals and businesses navigate the complex and changing landscape of healthcare with an emphasis on achieving governmental and regulatory compliance. He concentrates on managing internal and external healthcare investigations, False Claims Act cases, white collar criminal defense, all forms of healthcare litigation, and all aspects of the Illinois Certificate of Need program.

Prior to joining Benesch, Mark served as the co-chair of his prior firm's national healthcare fraud, audit, compliance and enforcement group. His previous government service includes acting as General Counsel to the Illinois Certificate of Need Board and the deputy chief counsel for litigation and enforcement at the Illinois Department of Public Health. He also served as chief of drug prosecution for the Sangamon County, Illinois, State's Attorney's Office as well as a special assistant U.S. attorney in the Central District of Illinois. Mark has experience in state and federal prosecution and enforcement actions, along with substantial trial experience. His trial experience and proficiency was sufficient to have gained admission from the Illinois Supreme Court into the Capital Litigation Trial Bar. Mark received his J.D., cum laude, from the University of Illinois College of Law in 1998 and his B.A., cum laude, from Brandeis University in 1995. For full bio, please click here.
