

WE'RE GROWING FOR IT

With a re-energized Energy Practice Group.

Energy will always be a vital—and complex—component of our nation's economy and security. Rising demand coupled with decreasing resources, increasing prices, and environmental concerns present a mix of challenging legal, business and regulatory issues as well as exciting new opportunities. Benesch's Energy Practice Group is growing to better serve clients throughout the energy sector in the Midwest and nationally.

Our multidisciplinary team, led by an Energy Law veteran, draws on the knowledge of attorneys in corporate law, public and private finance, public utility and regulatory, litigation, environmental, real estate, public law, intellectual property, transportation and logistics, and construction. We represent businesses and utilities in all streams of the industry to help them tap into opportunities, avoid and overcome obstacles, and operate with confidence.

If you are interested in joining our growing, dynamic team, please contact Laura Dutt, Director of Recruiting, ldutt@beneschlaw.com.

Left to right: Ryan Babiuch, Jerome W. Cook, Thomas O. Crist, Emily V. Danford, Isaac J. Eddington, Richard D. Kalson, Kevin D. Margolis, Michael J. Meyer, Justin L. Monday, Mark K. Norris, Jared E. Oakes, Joel R. Pentz, Karen Poliak*, Andrew J. Poltorak, Adam N. Saurwein, Addisah Sherwood, Michael L. Snyder, Chair

*Paralegal

