

I untangle problems that keep people and businesses in knots.

Litigation is like that—easy to get caught up in, hard to get out of.

By the time an issue lands on my desk, very smart people haven't been able to work it out.

It's my job to unwind it. Make sense of it.

In a way that makes sense for everyone involved.

Even better? My clients know to call me before a problem escalates, when connections are starting to fray and risks are high.

They know I'll protect their interests.

Offer solutions.

Diffuse tensions instead of fueling them.

That's the best part of my role as a litigator.

Helping people recognize and avoid pitfalls.

Keeping them out of intractable litigation, so they can keep doing what they do best.

Run their businesses. Live their lives.

I'm YELENA BOXER.

I'm on your team.
