Not every company has an on-site legal team, but the right legal partner can make you feel as if you do. Fritz and the Shearer's team rely on Benesch to help them handle a wide array of legal matters touching all parts of Shearer's business—from contract negotiations, M&A deals and IP protection to leases, litigation, employment and more. They know they can count on the Benesch team for a practical, risk-intelligent perspective that cuts through legalese and focuses on the business. It's the convenience of in-house counsel with the advantage of wide-ranging business experience and deep legal knowledge.
