ODW's transportation, warehousing and third-party logistics (3PL) services cover more than 5 million road miles a year and 4 million square feet of warehouse space. Even so, John and his team never hesitate to go the extra mile to provide an excellent customer experience. Negotiating contracts, navigating claims and litigating the occasional dispute come with the territory, but shouldn't disrupt valued relationships. That's where Benesch comes in, bringing deep industry experience, regulatory knowledge and the finesse to push hard for the right outcome, without closing the door to future business.
