

M&A Deals don't come with a rule book, so I make it a rule to come prepared.

Hundreds of deals done. No two the same.

Each side comes to the table for different reasons, with different expectations to meet, and different personalities to consider.

I guide C-suite and private equity leaders through the complexity, becoming an extension of their management team.

Bringing order to chaos with a practical, personal approach.

Grounded in experience with all types of businesses and the myriad of possible transaction structures.

Enriched with a bias toward creative, proactive problem-solving.

With Benesch's skilled team and extensive networks comes freedom to innovate, to take advantage of opportunity,

And find a path that lets both sides win.

That's what makes it rewarding. That's why I'm here.

That, and the adrenalin rush that comes with successfully closing your deal.

I'm JENNIFER STAPLETON.

I'm on your team.
