

WE'RE GROWING FOR IT

Every day, businesses count on Benesch's Labor & Employment Practice Group to help them manage their essential human resources. That means strategically building the resources on our own team.

We've recently welcomed five new attorneys to the group, increasing our capabilities and leveraging the experienced leadership of Co-Chair W. Eric Baisden.

We've also strengthened our specialized services by adding Benesch's Executive Compensation & Benefits Group to our practice.

We're growing to stay on top of our clients' expectations, and ahead of their needs.

How can our people help your people?

"I think they (Benesch's Labor & Employment Practice Group) are phenomenal. They are an extension of our legal department, they are our partners. They are completely transparent and are concerned primarily with the company's best interests. They are very practical attorneys."
