

MY BENESCH

"Working with Benesch is like having a team that's skilled and creative, smart and practical on your side. They understand the science and the business, so we are able to collaborate closely to develop very practical approaches."

MY TEAM

www.beneschlaw.com

Skincential Sciences and its breakthrough skincare solution emerged from diagnostic technologies originally developed to improve cancer research. Russ and his team turned to Benesch to protect this valuable intellectual property and apply it commercially in a new way. Russ continues to collaborate with Benesch to bring a novel and potentially life-changing medical diagnostic to market.

From securing patents, copyrights and trademarks to protecting trade secrets to drafting IP-related agreements and managing complex litigation, Benesch combines legal, business, scientific and engineering knowledge and experience to help clients preserve and protect their most valuable assets.
