

Using my skills as an architect and an attorney.

I design successful projects.

It's the nature of the construction industry. Big projects can quickly turn into big problems. Using my experience as an architect,

I understand the project from the ground up. As your attorney, I protect your interests from beginning to end.

I provide guidance and support through the project organization, contracting and occupancy phases.

Our Construction Practice Group has handled all types of projects and corresponding disputes, often involving multiple parties and huge financial stakes.

That's why you want me to represent you. I provide the project design that safely navigates the big problems.

I'm BARRY MILLER.

I'm on your team.
