

I speak technology with a business accent.

It's a language you don't learn overnight.

Or master once and done.

Systems change quickly. Capabilities evolve.

Breakthroughs create disruption, for better or worse.

Through it all, your business has to make sense of it.

And it has to make sense for your business.

Whether you're a tech company with products and services to sell,

A manufacturer with processes to run,

Or anyone with IP to protect and leverage.

I'm your translator. And your guide.

Offering sound judgment and practical advice.

For licenses and contracts.

Data security and privacy matters.

Compliance, commercialization, transactions,

IP due diligence, outsourcing.

Domestically and globally.

I don't make the technology work.

I make sure it works to your benefit.

I'm MIKE STOVSKY.

I'm on your team.
