

MY BENESCH

MY TEAM

"Benesch knew the ins and outs of what was needed and spoke the right language. There's a level of comfort knowing you have representation looking after your best interests and helping you chart a roadmap for the future."

MATT COLE
Co-Owner and Head Brewmaster
Fat Head's Brewery

Matt Cole knows all about brewing award-winning craft beer. But navigating the ins and outs of securing tax incentives for Fat Head's planned expansion was new territory. Timing was critical—the details had to be finalized before the first shovel could hit the ground. Benesch helped him quickly execute an agreement and get construction in motion. From economic development incentives to tax abatements and TIFs, Benesch has the public finance, real estate and industry experience to help take any venture from drawing board to open for business.
