Centerforce: The AI Strategy Summit: IP, Data and Compliance

JUNE 6, 2024

Speakers: Aslam A. Rawoof

New York, NY

Designed for legal professionals, IP specialists, data privacy experts, compliance officers, and business leaders, this summit offers practical solutions on how to leverage AI to drive innovation and productivity while ensuring compliance with regulations.

Participants will benefit from an in-depth exploration of the multidisciplinary approach required to navigate the complexities of AI, including the management of IP, the safeguarding of data privacy, adherence to compliance standards, and the protection of trade secrets.

With a carefully curated agenda, this summit facilitates learning, networking, and the exchange of ideas among leaders and innovators from various industries. Attendees will leave with a deeper understanding of how to effectively integrate AI strategies within their operations, achieve competitive advantage, and maintain regulatory compliance.
