

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENT

PN Live: Trump's budget and plastics - what's next? | Jonathan Todd

Plastics News

AUGUST 8, 2025

Speakers: Jonathan R. Todd

Join us for a live discussion as Plastics News unpacks the implications of President Donald Trump's newly passed budget bill on the plastics industry. With a clearer picture for the second half of 2025, processors and suppliers are evaluating how policy changes will impact resin markets, recycling, and regulatory landscapes.

Our industry experts will analyze:

- Key provisions in Trump's budget relevant to plastics and recycling.
- Potential impacts on resins and supply chain stability.
- How shifts in federal environmental priorities could affect plastics policy.
- What plastics companies should watch for in Washington for the rest of 2025.

The session will include a live Q&A, giving you the opportunity to ask your most pressing questions about policy, markets and business strategy as the plastics sector navigates a new federal spending environment.

REGISTER NOW

Expert guests: Matt Seaholm, president and CEO, Plastics Industry Association | Jonathan R. Todd, vice chair, transportation and logistics, Benesch Friedlander Coplan & Aronoff LLP

Moderator: Don Loepp, editor, Plastics News

More: Plastics leaders to weigh Trump budget's impact on resin and recycling | Plastics News