Convenience retailers are facing unprecedented levels of crime and safety issues, which are having a significant impact on financial performance, employee safety, job satisfaction, and customer shopping behavior. These losses have escalated to an unforeseen level and are having a significant impact on both bottom-line financial performance, and on the safety of store personnel and customers.

The inaugural NACS Loss Prevention and Safety Symposium is the industry's only and fully dedicated event designed exclusively for convenience retailers, wholesalers and suppliers who are seeking the latest insights, tools and resources that can help them proactively prepare for and mitigate risks.
