Quarterly Middle Market Roundtable Series

SEPTEMBER 18, 2014

Speakers: Michael D. Stovsky

Cleveland, OH
US

Hosted by Benesch and KPMG

While data security and privacy breaches in the consumer space continue to make headlines, the big news is that most data security and privacy issues affect middle market companies that will never make the headlines. No company or industry is immune. What are they looking for? Why would they attack you? What strategic assets do you have that are at risk to cyber criminals?

No longer is cyber security just an IT problem. In many cases, it's now on the agenda of the C-suite and the Board. The need to approach cyber-risk as a strategic business problem is more imperative than ever. Further, the legal and regulatory compliance process surrounding the issue continues to evolve, requiring companies to comply with new and changing laws.

Please join Ron Plesco, Managing Director and National Lead, Cyber Investigations, Intelligence, and Analytics, KPMG LLP and Michael Stovsky, Partner and Chair, Innovations, Information Technology, and Intellectual Prospect Practice Group, Benesch, for a highly interactive event discussing cyber crime. Hear real case examples from a "white hat" hacker perspective with expansive experience at exposing companies' vulnerabilities-both high and low tech. Discuss strategies for protecting your business and complying with legal and regulatory requirements.
