Please join Joe Rodgers, Managing Director with KPMG's Corporate Finance Capital Advisory practice, Andrew Savarie, Managing Director with KPMG's Corporate Finance M&A team, and Joy Barrist, Partner with Benesch's Commercial Finance and Banking practice, as they discuss navigating the current credit markets as well as the current state of the M&A market. Included in their discussion will be key items to consider when approaching the market, insights into raising capital that is aligned to your company's strategic objectives and business drivers, and how the market is supporting an increase in M&A activity. The speakers will share their insights on issues facing the credit markets and how the industry is responding, including new sources of capital that have become more prevalent. They will also share an update on, and keys to success when seeking out, secured and unsecured commercial loans from more traditional institutional lenders
