Featured Industries: Transportation & Logistics, International Trade & Supply Chain Management

Jonathan Todd, co-lead of Benesch's Transportation & Logistics Industry Group, recently authored an Expert Analysis article for Law360 titled, "Logistics Update: Handling Iran War Supply Chain Limitations."

The article examines the supply chain challenges arising from the ongoing conflict involving Iran and the implications for companies navigating an increasingly complex global logistics environment. Jonathan Todd discusses considerations for businesses as they respond to transportation and supply chain limitations, manage potential disruptions and evaluate commercial and operational risks.

The topic builds on Jonathan Todd's recent analysis of the Iran conflict and its effects on global shipping, including heightened supply chain, insurance, regulatory and legal risks.
