

Benesch Adds Associate to Litigation Team in Chicago

APRIL 17, 2023

As Benesch continues to add to its roster of top-notch legal talent, the firm is pleased to welcome Associate Amakie Amatthey to the Litigation Practice Group in Chicago.

Amakie has experience conducting legal research and facilitating the resolution of legal matters in commercial litigation, business litigation, real estate transactions and litigation, premises liability litigation, and other general litigation matters. In addition, she has also drafted motions and pleadings, and prepared legal memoranda and correspondence to resolve legal issues further.

Amakie earned her J.D. from the University of Wisconsin Law School and her Bachelor of Arts in Sociology, Biological Sciences from Northwestern University.