

Benesch Adds Associate to Litigation Team in San Francisco

APRIL 26, 2023

As Benesch continues to add to its roster of top-notch legal talent, the firm is pleased to welcome Associate Matthew Farrell to the Litigation Practice Group in San Francisco.

Matthew brings a plethora of global experience and knowledge to his position at Benesch. He has experience in many civil litigation matters from inception to disposition. Matthew has been involved in cases concerning whistleblower allegations, internal investigations, securities litigation class actions, securities litigation enforcement, bankruptcy proceedings, and more. Experienced in legal research and writing memoranda, Matthew has contributed to multiple pro bono projects as well.

Matthew earned his J.D. from Harvard Law School, his MSc with Merit in International Relations from The London School of Economics and Political Science, and his B.A., Bilingual, Specialized Honors in International Studies from York University.