ANNOUNCEMENTS

Benesch client, Owensboro Specialty Polymers (OSP), has been acquired by Borchers Americas, Inc.

NOVEMBER 8, 2017

Benesch client, Owensboro Specialty Polymers (OSP), has been acquired by Borchers Americas, Inc. Based in Owensboro, Kentucky, OSP is the North America market leader in polyvinylidene chloride (PVdC) latex emulsions, a specialty polymer barrier coating used in the flexible packaging, metal coatings, and oil & gas markets. OSP complements its PVdC products with polyvinyl acetate (PVAc) emulsions and other specialty products. Since its establishment, the Owensboro facility has been owned by an array of multinationals, including Dow Chemical and W.R. Grace, and has manufactured a diverse and expansive portfolio of chemistries.

The Benesch team was led by Peter Shelton and included Ryan Moore, Samantha Stahler, Rick Tracanna, Shaylor Steele, Julie Fenstermaker and Trivia Redditt-Blue. Congratulations!
