MARCH 9, 2026

Benesch Partner Jonathan Todd, and Vice Chair of the firm's Transportation & Logistics Practice Group, was quoted in the Supply Chain Dive article "As Trump tariff refund process takes shape, importers remain uncertain."

In the piece, Todd underscores the uncertainty importers face as U.S. Customs and Border Protection develops its refund procedures following the Supreme Court's decision striking down certain Trump-era tariffs.

Risks aside, every importer should register to receive refunds through Customs' electronic payment system, since that is the only mechanism CBP plans to use for refunds, Todd said. The agency confirmed as much in Friday's filing, noting many shippers have not yet registered despite paper-based returns no longer being available.
