

Benesch Recognized with Two 2026 MarCom Awards by the Association of Marketing and Communication Professionals

OCTOBER 28, 2026

Benesch is pleased to announce that the firm has been honored with two 2026 MarCom Awards, an international competition administered by the Association of Marketing and Communication Professionals (AMCP) that recognizes excellence in marketing and communications. Entries are evaluated on creativity, execution, strategic effectiveness and overall impact.

Benesch received the following honors:

- Platinum - Marketing/Promotion Campaign | Branding Refresh: Driven to Better: Benesch's Website and Brand Refresh
- Gold - Social Media | LinkedIn Site: Benesch LinkedIn

These awards recognize Benesch's continued commitment to building a distinctive brand and creating digital experiences that showcase the people, culture and client service that define the Benesch experience. In addition, Chief Marketing Officer Jeanne Hammerstrom received AMCP's Platinum Award for Individual Achievement | Individual's Body of Work Achievement, the organization's highest honor.

These honors follow the firm's recent recognition in the 2026 dotCOMM Awards, where Benesch earned three awards for excellence in branding, digital communications and storytelling.

"These recognitions reflect the talent, creativity and dedication of our team and their commitment to strengthening and elevating the Benesch brand," said Chief Marketing Officer Jeanne Hammerstrom. "We're honored to be recognized for telling the Benesch story in a way that is authentic, engaging and reflective of the firm's continued growth and momentum."

The MarCom Awards attract thousands of entries each year from corporate marketing and communications departments, advertising agencies, public relations firms, design shops and creative professionals worldwide. Since 2004, AMCP has evaluated more than 325,000 entries.

View the full list of 2026 MarCom award winners.