

Benesch Represents SPARC in High-Profile Trade Secrets Litigation

MAY 12, 2025

Benesch is proud to represent the Special Purpose Acquisition Research Corporation (SPARC) in a significant trade secrets dispute involving Insulet Corporation. The case, which originally resulted in a $452 million jury verdict in favor of SPARC, recently saw the award reduced to $59.4 million to prevent double recovery of damages.

Led by Benesch Partner Shaneeda Jaffer, with key support from Associate Lily North, the team has played a critical role in navigating this complex litigation. The case highlights Benesch's strong capabilities in trade secrets and intellectual property litigation, particularly in matters involving cutting-edge medical and life sciences technology.

More: