FreightWaves Highlights Benesch Partner Marc Blubaugh at TIA Capital Ideas Conference

APRIL 17, 2026

FreightWaves highlighted a recent fireside chat at the Transportation Intermediaries Association's Capital Ideas Conference featuring Marc Blubaugh alongside Justin Olsen, Chief Risk Officer of LOGISTIQ. The discussion focused on the significant implications of the pending U.S. Supreme Court decision in Montgomery v. Caribe and the potential impact on freight broker liability.

Blubaugh, co-chair of Benesch's Transportation & Logistics Practice Group, shared perspective on the legal uncertainty facing freight brokers as the industry awaits clarity on whether brokers can be held liable for the actions of motor carriers they engage. The session underscored the heightened risk considerations and operational challenges brokers may face depending on how the Court ultimately rules.
