

Holly Gross Named to Columbus Business First 40 Under 40 List

MAY 4, 2023

Benesch is pleased to announce that Holly F. Gross has been named to The Columbus Business First 40 Under 40 list for 2023.

The 40 Under 40 list is made up of the region's best and brightest young leaders. The nominees were judged on their career accomplishments, community activity, and letters of recommendation, among other factors. This is the 31st class in the paper's longest-running awards program, highlighting more than 1,200 honorees since the first group in 1993.

Holly is an associate in Benesch's Government Relations Practice Group. She helps clients understand how proposed, existing, and ever-changing local, state, and federal regulations and laws affect their business and ability to operate successfully. She frequently and successfully advocates for advantageous changes and governmental funding while addressing potential threats through the legislative and policymaking processes. Holly also practices non-profit law, serving as outside counsel to numerous tax-exempt organizations, specializing in formation, structure, and governance. In addition, she has a strong technical understanding of the Ohio legislative process, teaching Legislation as an adjunct professor at Capital University Law School.
