Kris Chandler and Jonathan R. Todd Featured in Crain's Executive Insights on AI in Transportation & Logistics

NOVEMBER 16, 2026

Benesch Partners Jonathan R. Todd and Kris Chandler are featured in the latest Crain's Executive Insights roundtable, "How Logistics Companies Can Deploy AI Responsibly", examining how artificial intelligence is moving from experimentation to everyday use across the logistics industry.

Joining technology and logistics executives, Jonathan R. Todd, Co-Leader of Benesch's Transportation & Logistics Practice Group, and Kris Chandler, Chair of the firm's AI Commission, discuss how companies are using AI to improve efficiency, optimize operations and address fraud while navigating the legal and operational risks that come with rapid adoption. The conversation offers a practical look at what responsible AI deployment requires as the technology becomes increasingly integrated into supply chain operations.
