Law360 recently reported on a California federal judge's approval of a $27.5 million cost-allocation agreement in litigation related to groundwater contamination and environmental cleanup efforts in the San Gabriel Valley. The ruling marks an important step forward in the ongoing remediation process.

Gould Electronics Inc. was represented in the matter by Benesch Partners Nicholas J. Secco and Krista Enns and Associate Lily A. North. The court-approved agreement addresses the allocation of cleanup costs among the parties and supports continued environmental remediation efforts in the region. The matter was recently featured in Law360 as a significant development in the long-running environmental litigation.
