PRESS RELEASES

Marc S. Blubaugh Elected to Board of Directors of the American Logistics Aid Network

MAY 29, 2025

Benesch is pleased to announce that Marc S. Blubaugh, co-chair of the firm's Transportation & Logistics Industry Group and vice chair of the Litigation Practice Group, has been elected to the board of directors of the American Logistics Aid Network (ALAN) for 2025. In this role, Marc will help guide the organization's strategy, advocacy and planning efforts.

The American Logistics Aid Network (ALAN) is an industry-wide nonprofit that provides supply chain assistance to humanitarian organizations during times of disaster. ALAN operates with the support of logistics professionals who volunteer essential resources-including transportation, warehousing, material handling equipment and expertise-to help communities in need.

Marc is a seasoned attorney who regularly advises clients on contracting practices, operating procedures and regulatory compliance. He assists clients in navigating complex investigations, handling high-stakes litigation, implementing best supply chain practices and developing strategies that not only minimize liability but also support sustainable business growth.

Marc may be reached at mblubaugh@beneschlaw.com or 614.223.9382.
