Stephanie A. Sheridan Quoted in Bloomberg Law | “Retailers Meet Wave of Credit Card Suits Citing Decades-Old Law”

AUGUST 19, 2024

Stephanie A. Sheridan, Managing Partner in the San Francisco office, was recently quoted in a Bloomberg Law article titled “Retailers Meet Wave of Credit Card Suits Citing Decades-Old Law.”

The article discusses the surge in lawsuits against retailers under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). Sheridan noted, “retailers must be vigilant in their compliance efforts, as these decades-old laws are being leveraged in new ways to challenge business practices.” Her insights underscore the importance of staying current with legal requirements to mitigate litigation risks.
