

Watkins Associated Industries Acquires Lexington Manufacturing

JANUARY 8, 2019

Benesch client, Watkins Associated Industries has acquired Minneapolis-based Lexington Manufacturing, a full-service window, door and structural millwork component parts supplier, providing a wide variety of machining and fabrication services to meet specific customer needs. Privately held Watkins, based in Atlanta, focuses on creating long-term value by building and managing world-class businesses in real estate, food processing, insurance services, and building materials.

The deal was led by Michael Mozes and included Mitchell Gecht, Samantha Stahler and Matt Delguyd.

Click here to read the full press release.