Overview

Sydney focuses her practice on corporate matters, with an emphasis on mergers & acquisitions. She typically represents small to midsize businesses, including closely-held and family businesses, as well as private equity firms and their portfolio companies, in complex acquisitions and divestitures, sale and distribution agreements, business counseling with respect to corporate governance, and other contract matters.

Sydney prioritizes building lasting client relationships rooted in integrity and trust to help her clients navigate challenges with confidence. She regularly counsels clients across a broad range of industries, including transportation and logistics, manufacturing, food and beverage, oil and gas, and service industries.

No matter the business challenge at hand, Sydney keeps her clients' best interests in mind as she guides them through complex legal issues. She works closely with her clients to distinguish their key priorities from their lesser concerns. With wide industry experience, Sydney brings a well-rounded perspective; she is able to anticipate issues, understand client priorities and offer solutions that are both legally sound and business-minded.
