Overview

“Eric is a true partner for our company. He is extremely great to work with and has tons of knowledge and expertise.” - Benesch client, Chambers USA

Described by clients as responsive, strategic and very thorough, Eric Baisden is a go-to lawyer for employers throughout the country facing high-stakes trial and appellate proceedings involving restrictive covenants and discrimination claims, and for sound counsel and guidance on day-to-day employment and labor-related issues and union relations matters.

Eric, co-chair of Benesch’s Labor & Employment Group and co-general counsel of the firm, maintains a national practice representing employers in all areas of employment and labor relations, including litigation before federal and state administrative agencies and in trial and appellate courts in 49 states.

Regarded as among the best in his field, Eric has been repeatedly recognized by The Best Lawyers in America, Ohio Super Lawyers and Chambers USA. He is also AV® Preeminent™ Rated by Martindale Hubbell, its highest available rating for legal ability and professional ethics.

An L&E Litigation Leader

Eric has significant first-chair experience in protecting employers from unfair competition and litigating the enforceability of restrictive covenants and confidentiality agreements, including obtaining and opposing TROs and preliminary injunctions. He has prevailed in numerous cases under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and state wage and hour laws, including collective and hybrid class actions. Eric also litigates claims of wrongful discharge and discrimination, including ADA, age, race, pregnancy, gender and sexual harassment, as well as OSHA, trade secret and intentional torts cases. Additionally, he litigates cases under ERISA, including preemption, benefit denials, retaliation, multiemployer pension fund issues, and claims to enforce or construe executive compensation and change-of-control agreements in connection with corporate mergers and acquisitions.

Union-Related Experience

Throughout his 30+-year career, Eric has been actively involved in all aspects of representing management in union environments, including collective bargaining, strikes, litigation, board proceedings, arbitrations and contract administration for clients in manufacturing, retail, healthcare, food and beverage, news media, and a variety of other industries.

He has appeared before the NLRB, argued before the Division of Advice, and bargained numerous contracts with OPEIU, UAW, IBEW, UAW, UFCW, Teamsters, UNITEHERE, BCTGM and SEIU, including concessionary bargaining, plant closings, successful decertification and multiemployer plan withdrawal liability issues, including bond waivers. He also has arbitrated and obtained favorable awards on numerous contract interpretation issues, discrimination and terminations.

Additionally, Eric has represented clients in legal proceedings regulating picketing and other organizational conduct of nonemployee union organizers and pickets and strike contingency planning, including TRO and preliminary injunction hearings regulating strike activities and striker misconduct. Clients also rely on Eric for union avoidance strategies and advice. He has won organizing campaigns in several states.

Eric defends employers in administrative proceedings before the Department of Labor, including numerous wage and hour audits, and OSHA, including several fatal accident and egregious penalty cases. He represents employers before the National Labor Relations Board, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and state administrative agencies in connection with discrimination charges.

Comprehensive L&E Advice

Eric regularly counsels both union and nonunion employers on wage and hour compliance, representation elections, contract negotiations, third-party avoidance, discipline, leaves and terminations. He advises clients on implementing personnel practices, including drafting and revising employee guides, applications, training materials, harassment policies, ADA compliance, drug testing policies and in-house investigations of drug use, and large-scale reductions in force. Additionally, Eric is experienced in training client personnel regarding personnel policies, third-party avoidance and internal investigations. He advises clients on the administration of collective bargaining agreements and has successfully implemented provisions such as mandatory overtime mid-contract.

Eric also advises employers on employment eligibility and I-9 compliance and trains personnel on best practices to ensure his clients' companies comply with employment eligibility verification requirements while avoiding immigration discrimination violations. He also is experienced in conducting I-9 self-audits and Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) onsite audits.
