

“Benesch is a visionary partner. They ask the right questions about growth and what matters to our company. They connect us with the right people. What I value most is their ability to distill things to their essentials—that clarity moves our projects forward.”

Better with Benesch

In its first decade, Richard has become a nationally recognized, purpose-driven builder of critical, high-impact infrastructure and one of the fastest-growing and most respected companies to work for.

In Benesch, Jed and his team have found a legal team that shares their values, energy and determination to make a positive difference for their clients, their people and the greater community. By handling an array of business matters involving labor, real estate, contracts, dispute resolution, M&A due diligence and more, Benesch is meeting Richard’s day-to-day legal needs while also providing multifaceted knowledge, experience and connections to support the company’s vision for the future.
